

3. Write an object-oriented program to represent a polynomial and perform various operations such as adding, subtracting, multiplying, dividing and evaluating polynomials.